FOIA(b)(7) - (D)

Rerep of SA CHARLES S. FULKS, dated as above, at NY, five copies of which are enclosed.

Regarding the allegation made by VLADIMIR RUDOLPH SHABINSKY, Editor, American Committee for Liberation from Bolshevism, concerning the apparently pro-Soviet article which appeared in "Novoye Russkoye Slovo", it should be noted that this newspaper is documented in rerep as an anti-Communist Russian language newspaper printed in NYC. It would appear on the surface that the allegation and the documentation are inconsistent.

Concerning the allegation made by SHABINSKY that ORLOV possibly was being used by the Soviets to influence other Soviets to return to the USSR, it should be noted that [] advised "The Russian Independence", of which ORLOV was Publisher, criticized the American Committee for Liberation from Bolshevism, of which SHABINSKY is Editor. It is therefore conceivable that SHABINSKY's allegation against ORLOV may have been influenced by this criticism of the American Committee for Liberation from Bolshevism.

Regarding "The Russian Independence", of which ORLOV is Publisher, [] advised that in his opinion the contents of this magazine were pro-Soviet. [] advised the contents of this magazine were considered anti-American rather than blatantly pro-Soviet. [] advised acquaintances who had read the magazine believed it to be a publication by a group of Monarchists, i.e., White Russians, who believed the Czar with complete control over the population should be restored to power. [] advised he knew of no Communist sympathies on the part of ORLOV and that he doubted the magazine was pro-Soviet.

NICOLAS J.G. GREGG said he considered a poem in the magazine to favorably depict life in Russia and that he considers one article to be critical of an anti-Communist organization.

[] advised Prince SERGE BELOSSELSKY-BELOZERSKY, a leader of Russian Monarchists in the New York City area, was the unwitting financial backer of the magazine and said the Prince was reportedly under the impression the magazine was to be of a conservative and anti-Marxist nature and was shocked when he read the first issue of it.

LETTER TO DIRECTOR, FBI
 NY 105-16816

[redacted] advised he believed one reason for the small circulation of "The Russian Independence" was the fact that the book stores handling Russian language publications refused to distribute it because of its critical articles concerning persons and organizations of the White Russian element in the US. This informant also advised ORLOV was the aggressor in a fist fight with IVAN VASSILIEFF, who operates a book store at 141st Street and Broadway, NYC. The informant also advised VASSILIEFF has the reputation of being a Monarchist.

SHABINSKY stated in his letter that he believed the Soviets had succeeded in recruiting for their purposes mentally unstable and possibly mentally sick persons such as ORLOV. He stated that ORLOV was obsessed with a certain mania for a "one against all" struggle against America. SHABINSKY also stated he was convinced ORLOV had a negative attitude toward the Communist regime in the USSR and pointed out that ORLOV had spent some time in a Soviet labor camp. He also advised ORLOV "made trouble" in the displaced persons camp in Schleissheim-Munich.

NIKOLAS XANTONOV, a member of the Association of Former Political Prisoners of Soviet Labor Camps, advised ORLOV was a member of a group within that organization attempting to disrupt and disorganize the activities of the organization. ny.

In view of the foregoing information concerning ORLOV, his engaging in a fist fight, his reported disruptive influence in the Association of Former Political Prisoners of Soviet Labor Camps, his criticism of individuals and organizations in "The Russian Independence", his causing trouble in the displaced persons camp, and his having been confined in a Soviet labor camp, it would appear that the subject's nature does not lend itself easily to the harmonious interrelationships required in an organized society. Further, there is no evidence to indicate ORLOV is being used by the Soviets as suggested by SHABINSKY. His having been in a Soviet labor camp tends to discredit the possibility that he would now be cooperating with the Soviets.

The indices of the NYO contain no information

LETTER TO DIRECTOR, FBI

identifiable with any of the residents at 647 West 184th Street, NYC, other than the subject and GLAVATSKY.

Prince SERGE BELOSSELSKY-BELOZERSKY mentioned in enclosed report as the unwitting financial backer of "The Russian Independence" is the subject of a closed case in the NYO, Bu-file 100-14799, NYO file 100-7308. Bulet to New York 10/5/51 recommended no contact be had with him.

It is believed that interview with ORLOV would serve no useful purpose and in view of the lack of evidence indicating him to be cooperating with the Soviets and the lack of any specific allegation that he is so cooperating, it is believed this matter does not warrant further investigative attention at this time.

Information has been received that Peter Kramtschaninow, 232½ Opp Str., Nurnberg, Germany, contacted Anatoli Orlov, 647 West 184th Street, New York City, on October 19, 1956.

Orlov is the publisher of "The Russian Independence" described as a Russian literary political journal of the new emigration in America.

Information has been received from a confidential source in March, 1956, that a few persons in the Russian anti-Communist element in New York City, are suspicious of Orlov and the Russian Independence because of the articles appearing in the Russian Independence which criticize everything that is American and appear to create a hatred of everything that is American.

A confidential informant has reported that one of the Soviet Nationals in the United States was interested in the publication of Anatoli Orlov and was pleased with the articles contained therein.

It is requested that sufficient identifying data be obtained regarding Peter Kramtschaninow, 232½ Opp Str., Nurnberg, Germany, in order that the purpose of his contact with Orlov might be determined.

II. SUBJECT'S ACTIVITIES, ASSOCIATIONS AND CONNECTIONS WITH "THE RUSSIAN INDEPENDENCE"

The masthead of the third edition of "The Russian Independence" (TRI), dated June, July and August, 1956, describes itself as a Russian literary political journal of the new emigration in America. The editor is listed as Editorial Board and the publisher as ANATOLI ORLOV. Correspondence, materials and money orders are to be sent by name to the Secretary, Mrs. E. BELKOVICH, 647 West 184th Street, New York 33, New York.

On October 31, 1956, the New York Office of the FBI received an anonymous letter postmarked 10:30 a.m., October 29, 1956, at Washington, D.C. This letter contained the following information:

NY 105-16816

"To Federal Bureau of Investigation
Foley Square
New York, N.Y.

"Dear Sir:

"We would like to call your attention to the activity of a group of communists, who under the guise of D.P.'s entered into this country and started to publish a periodical "Rossiyskaya Nezavisimost" (Russian Independence) at 647 West 184th Street, New York 33, N.Y., tel. Wa 8-0242.

"They pretend to be Russian nationalists and their organ-anti-communist periodical, but actually it is full of camouflaged communist propaganda directed against the U.S. Government, its institutions and against some U.S. citizens of Russian descent (anti-communists).

"Some materials printed in this periodical reveal that its publisher (Anatoly Orlov) receives some materials for publication directly from Soviet agents from behind the Iron Curtain.

"On the basis of these established facts it is safe to say that the above indicated Anatoly Orlov, his secretary, Mrs. E. Belkovich and members of the editorial board (their names are not known to us), as well as the printer of this periodical (Henry Orbachki, 21E. 17th Street, New York 3, N.Y., tel. Algonquin 5-8575) might carry out some other activities detrimental for the United States, such as espionage, etc. Wig.

"But taking into consideration even only their subversive communist propaganda, which they carry by means of this periodical among Russian-American colonies throughout the United States, we should say that their activities should be watched by your agents and be brought to the end, as detrimental to this country.

"Thanking you in advance, we are

"respectfully yours

"A Group of U.S. citizens of Russian descent (anti-communists)"

The Manhattan Address Telephone Directory dated November 15, 1956, lists HENRY ARCHACKI, Artists, at 21 East 17th Street, New York City. N.Y.

Regarding HENRY ARCHACKI, it is noted that JOSEPH S. KANE, Newspaper Reporter, Schenectady "Union Star," and former Editor and Publisher of a Polish newspaper in Amsterdam, New York, advised SA RANDOLPH WILLIAM THROWER on November 23, 1943, that ARCHACKI is known as the Polish "ROBERT RIPLEY." He stated that ARCHACKI is with the Polish newspaper known as the "Nowy Swiat," and that ARCHACKI and his wife were both research students who maintained files of a mass of information. KANE stated that there would be no question whatsoever with respect to the loyalty of Mr. ARCHACKI to the cause of the United States. He stated that ARCHACKI is a naturalized citizen.

HENRY R. ARCHACKI, Sports Editor of the Polish morning daily newspaper, "Nowy Swiat," (New World) was interviewed in July, 1943, by SA CHARLES F. LANMAN at which time ARCHACKI furnished information regarding individuals connected with former Polish Olympic boxing teams. N.Y.

T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past, and who is generally familiar with Russian emigre activity in New York City, advised on October 2, 1956, he had heard that ALEXANDER BOULDEVITCH, a displaced person who resides in Apartment 24 at 720 West 180th Street, New York City, telephone number WA 8-3704, has written articles for the subject's publication, "The Russian Independence" (TRI). N.Y.

The Manhattan Address Telephone Directory contained no listing for BOULDEVITCH at 720 West 180th Street, New York City.

NY 105-16816

The indices of the New York Office contained no information identifiable with ALEXANDER BOULDEVITCH.

Records of the Credit Bureau of Greater New York as furnished by HELEN POST to SE DONALD C. STRELETZKY on December 6, 1956, contained no record for BOULDEVITCH.

N. A. OLDI, Supervisor of Records Unit, Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), New York City, advised SA WILLIAM D. MEEHAN on December 7, 1956, that their files contained no record for BOULDEVITCH.

Records of the Bureau of Special Services, New York City Police Department, were caused to be reviewed by SA AUGUST J. MICHA on December 7, 1956, with the result that no record was located for BOULDEVITCH.

T-3, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on November 26, 1956, that the "Annual Ball for the Peoples of Russia" was held on November 17, 1956, at St. Nicholas Arena, New York City. The ball was sponsored by the "Bloc of Nationals," which is considered to be an anti-Communist organization. There were approximately 1,500 persons in attendance at this gathering and it was a social affair with dancing and drinking. Proceeds from the ball are to be used for political purposes; that is, to publish various articles and pamphlets dedicated to a Russia without Communism.

T-3 advised that he had observed the subject collecting tickets at the ball, and that he had learned that the subject would receive funds from the proceeds of the ball to publish the fourth edition of TRI.

T-3 stated that one of the officers of the ball by the name of ANDREJ DIKI, who is a prolific writer and journalist, would write some of the material to be used in the publication TRI. T-3 stated that it is his opinion that DIKI is anti-Communist although because of his style of writing is considered to be a controversial person by many. T-3 had no information to indicate that the subject or DIKI have been involved in any activity which would be considered detrimental to the best interests of the United States.

Mrs. ELIZABETH TOMASHEVSKI, Case Supervisor, Tolstoy Foundation, 300 West 58th Street, New York City, an organization which aids displaced persons in coming to the United States, advised SA JAMES D. DEWEIRST on January 20, 1956, that through Russian circles she learned that ANTON SANKEVITCH is a writer for the anti-Communist Russian daily newspaper, "Novoye Russkoye Slovo," 243 West 56th Street, New York City, and writes under the name A.

NIKOLAJ POMASANOW, 1431 Madison Avenue, New York City, advised SAs LEONARD A. BUTT and SIMON TULLAI on April 4, 1956, that ANDREI DIKIJ, whose true name is ZANKEVICH, was one of the officers of the ball for the Peoples of Russia held in 1955. He stated that DIKIJ took most of the proceeds from the ball for political purposes, while approximately $800 of the money was used for charitable purposes.

Russia
N.Y.

POMASANOW advised that DIKIJ's politics were the same as his own, that is to say they were both interested in the "Federalist Movement for Russia" rather than the "Separatist Movement" based on language and background. He stated that the Russian emigres located in various countries outside of the Soviet Union had several ideas on how the new Russia or the anti-Communist Russia should be organized once they returned to power, and that this "Federalist Movement" was one of the many such movements. It was his opinion that none of the Russian political groups located in the New York area trusted DIKIJ because he played one group against the other and took their ideas to build his reputation in the eyes of other persons.

Records of INS, New York City, which were reviewed on April 16, 1956, by SA LEONARD A. BUTT, reflect ANDREW ZANKEVICH, formerly ANDREAS SANKEVITCH, was born September 2, 1895, Konotop, Chernigov, USSR, and entered the United States on July 16, 1949, as a displaced person. He was naturalized on November 28, 1955, at United States District Court, Southern District of New York, Naturalization #7605067.

T-4, who is in a position to furnish reliable information, and who is generally familiar with Russian emigre activities in New York City, advised on June 13, 1956, that it was the opinion of various individuals including himself that if ever there was a Soviet agent masquerading in the open here it would be ANDREJ DIKI.

According to T-4, no matter what the meeting, conference or activities involved, DIKI is the perennial trouble maker whose activities are exclusively directed toward breaking up anything which is directed against the Communist enemy.

T-4 stated that he had no evidence that DIKI was a Soviet Agent, only indications to that effect. T-4 continued that during the period of the "Coordinating Center," the American Committee for Liberation from Bolshevism sponsored organization for anti-Communist work for all emigres, DIKI was the most disruptive element with whom the American Committee had to deal and one of the cleverest.

DIKI, according to T-4, presumes to publish with no known funds a federalist newspaper in New York and often has full page advertisements in other papers.

The "New York Times," dated August 2, 1953, in an article entitled "Soviet Exiles Get Warning on Schisms," states that the American Committee for Liberation from Bolshevism, 6 East 42nd Street, New York City, is headed by retired Vice Admiral LESLIE C. STEVENS, and was formed two years ago to finance and otherwise aid anti-Communist activities by exiles from the Soviet Union.

On January 28, 1957, records of the Connecticut Power Company were checked by Mr. RAY MC NICHOLL, at the Stamford, Connecticut, office of that company. These records indicated that one "V. Masalkin" had applied for gas and electric service at #30 East Walnut Street, Stamford, Connecticut, on February 2, 1956. MASALKIN's business address was given as #8 Shorelands Road, Old Greenwich, Connecticut.

A check of the Greenwich, Connecticut, City Directory, 1956 edition, revealed that #8 Shorelands Road is a florist shop, operated by F. S. HARTWRIGHT. The Stamford, Connecticut, City Directory, reflected no information regarding MASALKIN.

Records of both the Credit Rating Bureau of Stamford, and the Stamford, Connecticut, Police Department, were checked for any information regarding MASALKIN, with negative results.

Indices of the New Haven Office contain no record for either MASALKIN or F. S. HARTWRIGHT.

employment of either the subject or his wife.

On February 6, 1957, SA SIMON TULLAI observed the names A. ORLOV and E. BELKOVICH on a name plate attached to one of the mail boxes located in the apartment building at 300 Van Siclen Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

It is noted that the Brooklyn Address Telephone Directory dated January 10, 1957, lists Mrs. ELENA ORLOV at 300 Van Siclen Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, telephone number EV 5-0925.

According to the records of Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), 70 Columbus Avenue, New York City, as reviewed by SA RAYMOND E. BOYLE on February 6 and 7, 1956, the subject married ELENA ORLOV nee BELKOVICH at Petroskoye, Russia, on May 10, 1940.

Subject's Activities and Associations

The masthead of the third edition of "The Russian Independence" (TRI) dated June, July and August, 1956, describes itself as a Russian literary political journal of the new emigration in America. The Editor is listed as Editorial Board and the publisher as ANATOLI ORLOV. Correspondence, materials and money orders are to be sent by name to the Secretary, Mrs. E. BELKOVICH.

It is to be noted that T-2, who has furnished reliable information in the past and is generally familiar with Russian emigre activity in New York City, advised on October 2, 1956, that he had heard that ALEXANDER BOULDEVITCH, a displaced person who resided in Apartment 24 at 720 West 180th Street, New York City, had written articles for the subject's publication TRI.

On February 4, 1957, T-2 advised that as far as he knows, only three issues of TRI were published, the last issue being published several months ago. T-2 had no current information to furnish regarding the subject.

~~ALEXANDER~~ T-2 advised he heard that ALEXANDER BULDEVICH or BULDEVITCH, 720 West 180th Street, New York City, had his articles published in TRI. T-2 stated that the address is about six years old and that he was not certain as to the correct spelling of the name BOULDEVITCH, but that it was probably one of the three variations he furnished.

Mrs. DOROTHY SINCLAIR, Superintendent, 720 West 180th Street, New York City, advised SA SIMON TULLAI on February 11, 1957, that an elderly individual by the name of BULDEVICH (phonetic) roomed in Apartment 24 at instant address with Mrs. WOOLF, a widow, about three and one-half years ago but had since moved out. Mrs. SINCLAIR stated that Mrs. WOOLF had passed away in the meantime and that she nor any other person in the building at the present time would be able to furnish any information about BULDEVICH. She was unable to furnish any further information.

Records of INS, New York City, as reviewed on February 11, 1957 by SE KENNETH N. DELANOY, failed to locate a record for ALEXANDER BOULDEVITCH, BULDEVICH or BULDEVITCH.

The indices of the New York Office contain no information identifiable with the above variations of the name BOULDEVITCH.

On January 28, 1957, T-3, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he heard of the name ALEXANDER BOULDEVITCH and, although he does not know him personally, has heard that BOULDEVITCH, an elderly anti-Communist Monarchist, had written some material which was used in TRI.

NY 105-16816

T-3 advised that the subject has not yet published a new edition of TRI.

T-4, who was in a position to furnish reliable information, advised that ~~CONSTANTIN NICOLAYEV~~, Apartment 6, 1826 Bathgate Avenue, Bronx, New York, the publisher of a magazine "For Law and Truth", a former lawyer for the Czar and at present the head of an anti-Soviet organization, "Association of Russian Jurists and Former Displaced Persons in America", had been contacted by ANATOLI ORLOV, 300 Van Siclen Avenue, Apartment 2C, Brooklyn, New York. GERMANY

T-4 advised that according to NICOLAYEV, the subject, a former displaced person known to NICOLAYEV in a Displaced Persons Camp in Germany, made inquiries about the SHESTUNS. The subject indicated to NICOLAYEV that he had heard from a friend who lives in New Jersey by the name of ~~NICHEROCHENKO~~ that Mr. SHESTUN had returned to the USSR and that the whereabouts of Mrs. ~~SHESTUN~~ was unknown. N.Y.

According to T-4, NICOLAYEV suspected that the subject is an agent for the Mikhailov Committee and his reason for suspecting this is because the subject contacted him just two days after Mrs. SHESTUN had visited him (NICOLAYEV) at his New York apartment and then returned to her country home on Oscawana Lake Road, Putnam Valley, New York. NICOLAYEV, according to T-4, could not figure out how the subject found out about the SHESTUNS.

Records of INS, New York City, reflect that ~~NIKOLAY PAVLOVICH SHESTUN~~, born in Pavlograd, USSR, arrived in the United States on March 27, 1950, via "SS James Gray" at New York. He was admitted originally for permanent residence and his last address in the United States was Oscawana Lake Road, Putnam Valley, New York. He was voluntarily repatriated to the USSR on December 23, 1956, and departed from New York via Scandinavian Airlines System on that date. His destination was listed as Pavlograd, USSR.

In the April, 1955 issue of the Russian language newspaper "For a Return to the Homeland," the Committee for a Return to the Homeland, is self-identified as a Soviet sponsored organization under the direct leadership of Soviet Major General NIKOLAI E. MIKHAILOV. This Committee, which maintains offices in East Berlin, Germany, has as its primary purpose, the repatriation of persons of Soviet or Satellite origin and is aided in this purpose by their publication, "For a Return to the Homeland."

Contacts of the Subject

T-5, who was in a position to furnish reliable information, during October, 1956, furnished information that the below listed individuals had been in contact with the subject on the dates indicated:

Individual	Date of Contact

A check of the Greenwich, Connecticut, City Directory, 1956 edition, revealed that #8 Shorelands Road is a florist shop, operated by F. S. ~~HARTWRIGHT~~. The Stamford, Connecticut, City Directory, reflected no information regarding MASALKIN.

Records of both the Credit Rating Bureau of Stamford, and the Stamford, Connecticut, Police Department, were checked for any information regarding MASALKIN, with negative results.

Indices of the New Haven Office contain no records for either MASALKIN or F. S. HARTWRIGHT with the result that no record was located for GEORGE TIMKO.

They described the couple as very quiet people who have enjoyed an excellent reputation since living in the neighborhood. They advised that they had no reason to question the associates or loyalty of the couple.

MRS ANATOLI ORLOV
NEE BELKOVICH
RUSSIA
DETAILS: On July 12, 1957, a pretext telephone call to the subject's wife, Mrs. ELENA ORLOV at number EV 5-0925, 300 Van Siclen Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, determined that the subject continues to reside at that address.

It was also determined that the subject continues to be the publisher of the magazine, "The Russian Independence" (TRI), which is published from his place of residence. Mrs. ORLOV was unable to state when the next issue of TRI would be published.

April
The ~~May~~ May-June, 1957 issue number four of TRI, on the front cover, describes itself as the Russian Literary-Political Magazine of New Emigres in America. The Editor is listed as Editorial Board, and the publisher is listed as ANATOLI ORLOV. This publication reflects that correspondence, manuscripts and money orders are to be sent in the name of the secretary, Mrs. E. BELKOVICH, 300 Van Siclen Avenue, Brooklyn 7, New York.

According to the records of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), 70 Columbus Avenue, New York City, the subject married ELENA ORLOV, nee Belkovich, at Petroskoye, Russia on May 10, 1940.

Subject and the Publication TRI

VRASHABINSKY
PEN NAME
On May 7, 1957, VLADIMIR RUDOLPH SHABINSKY, who is employed as an editor at Radio Liberation, American Committee for Liberation from Bolshevism (ACLB) in New York City, advised SAS SIMON TULLAI and JOHN C. TRY that it was his opinion that the subject is a Soviet "agent provocateur", and publishes TRI as part of the "patriotic work" that is demanded by the Soviet sponsored Committee For a Return to the Homeland" (CFRH), headed by Soviet General MIKHAILOV. SHABINSKY referred to issue number 4, of TRI, which on page 7 has a cartoon wherein he (SHABINSKY), under his pen name of URASSOV, is depicted as a dog smeared with the blood of Russia, which is being chopped up by HOWLAND SARGEANT, the President of the ACLB. SHABINSKY stated SARGEANT replaced Retired Vice Admiral LESLIE C. STEPHENS as President upon STEPHENS' NY death in approximately December, 1956. SHABINSKY stated that the article, accompanying the cartoon, describes him (SHABINSKY) as an "adventurer who is selling Russia to America."

Regarding the ACLB, the "New York Times" dated August 2, 1953, contained an article entitled "Soviet Exiles get Warning on Schisms". According to this article, the ACLB, located at 6 East 45th Street, New York City, is headed by Retired Vice Admiral LESLIE C. STEPHENS and was formed two years previously to finance and otherwise aid anti-Communist activity by exiles from the Soviet Union.

Regarding CFRH, on April 29, 1955, Mr. GEORGE GOGOBERSIDSE, 13-39 126th Street, College Point, Long Island, New York, furnished the New York Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation the April, 1955 issue of a newspaper he had received in the mail, printed in the Russian language, captioned "For a Return to the Homeland". This newspaper describes itself as a publication of the CFRH. The chairman for the CFRH is noted to be Soviet Major General NIKOLAI FILLIPOVICH MIKHAILOV. The address of the CFRH and Editorial Offices of the newspaper, "For a Return to the Homeland" is listed as Berlin, Germany. The newspaper claims that the Soviet Government sanctioned the CFRH to stimulate a movement for persons to return to their native lands, and that the German Democratic Republic gave the Committee authority to function on its territory.

RUSSIA

N. MIKHAILOV
Concerning the "patriotic work" that is demanded by CFRH, SHABINSKY produced Photostats of two letters he had received from the CFRH. These letters were written in Russian, postmarked at Berlin, and bore a stamp of the East German Republic. They are written under the heading of the CFRH, are addressed "Dear Fellow Countryman", and bear the signature of the Chairman, N. MIKHAILOV.

The first letter, dated March 29, 1957 reflects that the CFRH has received many inquiries about the letter of amnesty and that there have been vague interpretations of this letter. Attention is directed to Section 7 of the

Decree of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of September 7, 1955 which states: "to release from responsibility all those Soviet citizens abroad who were involved in anti-Soviet organizations in the post-war period with the proviso that they repent by subsequent patriotic activity on behalf of the homeland."

"This patriotic work includes watching the sentiments of those fellow countrymen around him in order to expose those who are pursuing anti-Soviet work."

It requests that information about these people should be gathered and turned over to the nearest Soviet representative. This letter states "Everyone working honestly on behalf of the homeland abroad will be pardoned and even prior to his return to the homeland he will receive a written notification to this effect through the proper Soviet Consulate".

The second letter dated April 4, 1957 refers to the first letter and states that the contents of the first letter, despite the fact it is written on the letterhead of the CFRH and bears MIKHAILOV's signature, are the result of the intrigues of the enemy who is trying to deliver a blow to the work of the CFRH. This letter vehemently denies that the CFRH asks fellow countrymen, in the name of CFRH, to engage in espionage work and to report on their own countrymen.

This second letter in conclusion states that the CFRH will be grateful for any information regarding the work of anti-Soviet organizations as well as the life and behaviour of individual emigrants.

The "San Francisco News" (SFN) in its issue of May 6, 1957 carried a front page article reflecting a telephonic interview by a reporter of the SFN with MIKHAILOV in East Berlin MVD headquarters during which MIKHAILOV denied writing either of the previously mentioned letters, and answered "yes" when the reporter asked him if Russian Americans in San Francisco could be told to disregard the request to spy on their fellow countrymen.

NY 105-16816

On May 9, 1957, T-1 advised that it was his opinion that TRI is pro-Soviet in content and is using a pro-Soviet technique which has been used in Europe. This technique is very subtle in that it attempts to create strong Russian nationalism in its readers. This technique also substitutes the word "Russian" for "Soviet", such as describing a photo of a tank as a Russian tank instead of a Soviet tank. T-1 stated that no criticism of the Soviet Union has ever appeared in TRI, to the best of his knowledge.

T-1 stated that he has heard an unconfirmed rumor, from unrecalled sources, that TRI is in contact with the CFRH.

T-1 advised that the subject recently went to see MARK WEINBAUM, the Editor of the Novoye Russkoye Slovo (NRS), a Russian language daily newspaper published in New York City. In an attempt to have WEINBAUM write anything, even criticism about TRI, in the NRS. According to T-1 WEINBAUM absolutely refused to make any mention of TRI in the NRS to prevent TRI from getting any publicity.

T-1 also advised that many people in states other than New York are receiving free copies of TRI through the mail.

~~ANDREW ZANKKEVITCH~~ ~~ANDREJ DIKI~~
T-1 stated that he has heard that ~~ANDREW ZANKKEVICH~~, also known as Andrew ~~DIKI~~, a former contributor of articles to NRS, is the main writer of articles for TRI. T-1 stated that the subject is incapable of producing the quality of the writing appearing in TRI. According to T-1, the style of writing appearing in TRI is DIKI's, a very capable writer.

~~THE RUSSIAN INDEPENDENCE~~
T-1 stated that he has heard that DIKI had been a member of many Russian anti-Communist organizations, but that he had eventually caused trouble and had been expelled from these organizations.

On June 13, 1956, T-2 advised that it was his opinion and the opinion of various other individuals, that if there was ever a Soviet agent masquerading in the open here in the United States it would be ANDREJ DIKI.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

NY 105-16816

According to T-2, no matter what meeting, conference or activities involved, DIKI is the perennial trouble maker whose activities are exclusively directed toward breaking up anything which is directed against the Communist enemy.

T-2 stated that he had no evidence that DIKI was a Soviet agent, only indications to that effect. T-2 continued that during the period of the "Coordinating Center", the ACLB sponsored organization for anti-Communist work for all emigres, DIKI was the most disruptive element with whom the ACLB had to deal and one of the cleverest.

Records of INS, New York City, which were reviewed on April 16, 1956 by SA LEONARD A. BUTT, reflect ANDREW ZANKEVICH, formerly ANDREAS SANKEWITCH, was born September 2, 1895 in Konotop, Chernigov, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, and entered the United States on July 16, 1949, as a displaced person. He was naturalized on November 28, 1955 at United States District Court, Southern District of New York, and was issued Certificate of Naturalization Number 7605067.

Subject's Contacts

T-3 advised on May 28, 1957 that no pertinent information could be furnished concerning the activities of PETER KRAMSHANIKOW, 232 Oppelnerstrasse, Nuernberg, Germany, who is believed by T-3 to be identical to one PETER KRAMTSCHANINOW, 232 $\frac{1}{2}$ Opp str, Nurnberg, Germany, previously reported in contact with the subject on October 19, 1956.

On June 5, 1957, EDWARD L. BRAUNE, Agent, New York Telephone Company, 140 West Street, New York City, made available records to SA ROBERT D. WARDEN, which reflect that during the period of March 7, 1957 through June 7, 1957 the following toll call was made on March 14, 1957, from telephone number EV 5-0925, listed to the subject's wife, to Newark, New Jersey, number Essex 4-3078.
